

Felix, the Faithful Priest

To all appearances, Felix is a kind, light-spirited, humorous devotee of the Goddess Terah. On the inside, however, he's quick to judge and a somewhat cowardly zealot.

Once a rich merchant, he lost everything and was driven to the brink of death. After his life was saved by Terah when the Goddess sent him a vision, She could not be denied. Now he roams the land saving poor lost souls similar to his former self and spreads Her Truth, which is the only one. He might wish well, but his spirited lectures just seem to go on and on and on...

"It is not my place to judge, my child; only our Mother Terah may - Holy is Her name. I merely show the error of your ways."
